

Board Approves Salary Schedule For Teachers

THE proposed teachers' salary schedule was approved and made a part of the 1960-61 budget for East Stroudsburg Area Joint Schools at special meeting last night in the high school auditorium.

Adoption of the revised budget followed a closed conference at which several spokesmen for the teachers presented their salary proposal to the finance and policy committees of the joint board. The individual boards making up the jointure then met separately to consider the proposal.

The motion to accept the salary schedule was made by Park Unangst. It read, "I move to approve the budget with the addition of $1,700 to be earmarked for the proposed teachers' salary schedule for one year and further study of the schedule."

The $1,700 will be added to the $18,000 in the budget and the entire $19,700 designated for teacher salary adjustments during the coming year.

Other action taken by the board was to include $7,500 in the budget to cover the cost of transportation of the kindergarten pupils.

They also deleted $10,350 from the budget. This amount covered stadium upkeep, furniture for the elementary school, painting of the halls, blacktopping, pay increases for coaches, janitors, clerks and secretary of the jointure.

With the addition of $9,200 and the deletion of $10,350 the budget for the school year has been reduced $1,150.

Attracted to the board meeting were 80 teachers from the jointure, a representative from the Pennsylvania State Educational Assn. and members of the PTA and several civic organizations.

SWIFTWATER—Lawrence J. Wile, principal of the Pocono Township High School, was named principal of the new Pocono Mountain Joint Junior-Senior High School during a meeting of the Joint Committee here last night.

Production Hits Rate Of Half Trillion

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower on Wednesday announced record levels of production and employment in April. Output topped the half-trillion-dollar rate—that's 500 billion dollars—for the first time.

The President volunteered the data at his news conference ahead of normal announcements by the Commerce and Labor departments.

"The achievement of these high levels is proof of the great strength of our free enterprise system and its promise for the future," he said.

Price Index Steady
He also noted that the consumer price index has varied only one-quarter of one per cent in the last six months.

The value of all the nation's goods and services produced—called the Gross National Product—reached a record annual rate of $500,200,000,000 in the first quarter. Eisenhower's advisers had estimated a smaller increase.

After the White House news conference, the Commerce Department released its detailed quarterly report on the GNP. It showed an advance at the annual rate of $16,700,000 in the first three months of the year.

A buildup of inventories which had been depleted during the 1959 steel strike accounted for more than seven billion dollars of the rise.

The job figures, as announced by the President and amplified by the Labor Department, showed an April increase in employment of nearly two million, triple the expected increase for the month, and a decline in unemployment of over half a million, double the expected drop.

5 Per Cent Idle
The figures showed that 95 out of every 100 Americans who want work had jobs in April. But five out of every 100 don't have jobs—a fact organized labor quickly advanced as a compelling reason for government aid to depressed areas.

A Democratic-sponsored measure authorizing 251 million dollars of such aid is on Eisenhower's desk for approval or veto. Asked about the bill, the President said he will use his best judgment about it. Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois has predicted a veto.

The government job report showed employment rose from 64,267,000 in March to a record for April of 66,159,000, an increase of 1,892,000.

Unemployment declined from 4,206,000 in March to 3,660,000 in April, a drop of 546,000.

The job improvement was tempered by the fact that March was a bad month due to heavy snows and unseasonably cold weather and the April job count came just before Easter when trade employment was high.

Knocks Humphrey From Race

Kennedy Victory Raises His Hopes

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—The Democratic presidential hopes of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts soared high on the wings of a sweeping victory in Tuesday's West Virginia primary.

Flashed with victory, Kennedy continued to rack up more than 60 per cent of the vote in a contest in which he knocked Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota out of the presidential nomination contention.

With 2,615 of 2,750 precincts tabulated the count stood: Kennedy 219,246; Humphrey 141,941. Kennedy's victory was impressive beyond the boundaries of West Virginia because of the way it was achieved. A Roman Catholic, he took on Humphrey, a Congregationalist, and thrashed him soundly in a state where only 4.5 per cent of the population is Catholic.

Leaders Were Doubtful
Flushed with victory, Kennedy said this should settle the religious issue which has caused some Democratic leaders to oppose his nomination on the ground he could not win in November.

pose of that matter. I hope it is disposed of now. I will not object to discussing it again, but I hope now it won't be considered an issue."

Some of Kennedy's critics were bound to point, however, to the parallel of what happened to Al Smith, a Catholic and the Democratic nominee, in West Virginia in 1928.

Kennedy's associates predicted that a number of party leaders who have been holding out against him are going to find themselves under extreme pressure to line up for the Massachusetts senator before the July nominating convention in Los Angeles.

One of these, Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, a Catholic, said Kennedy had scored a great victory but the result would not alter the position of neutrality of his state's delegates to the convention.

Lawrence, vacationing in Rome, said it's all conjecture whether Humphrey's withdrawal from the race will help Adlai E. Stevenson, who says he isn't a candidate for the nomination, or others who have made it clear they are.

DisSalle Optimistic
Kennedy's friends attached significance to the statement of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, another Catholic, that "Kennedy is on his way."

Raps Soviet Secrecy, Asks 'Open Skies'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower denounced Wednesday a Soviet "fetish of secrecy" as a major cause of world tension. And he defended American espionage as a "distasteful but vital necessity" to prevent massive surprise attack.

Calm, poised, but firm, Eisenhower once more challenged the Soviet Union to join in opening the skies to international aerial inspection in order to guard against sneak attacks. Moscow again gave clear indications of rejecting the idea.

No Provocation
Eisenhower chose his regular news conference for his first public pronouncement relating to the Soviet's May Day denouncing of an American U2 jet plane on an intelligence mission high and deep in Soviet territory.

In a quick spur of the moment reaction to a tough-talking speech by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko Wednesday morning, the President said it is absolutely ridiculous to accuse the United States of provocative acts, since:

"We are looking to our own security and defense and we have no idea of promoting any kind of conflict of war."

There were assurances from the President that he still has hopes for progress on the great issues dividing East and West at the summit conference starting in Paris May 16.

Revises Estimate
He told reporters, too, that his plans to visit the Soviet Union in June remain unchanged—"I expect to go."

That was shortly before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, perched on a chair in the midst of the rubble of what the Soviet Union claims is the U.S. spy plane shot down May 1, told correspondents the plane incident has led him to revise his estimate of Eisenhower.

Hinting that the welcome mat might be turned over, Khrushchev said postponement of the June visit could be discussed at Paris. But, then, speaking at another point as if he still expects to play host to Eisenhower, Khrushchev said there will be "no excesses whatsoever among the people" arising from the world uproar over the plane.

Eisenhower covered a good many other topics in response to questions. And he was ready with some notes on one subject. For the first time in history, he said, the annual rate of production of goods and services in the United States passed the half-trillion-dollar mark in the first quarter of 1960.

Opposes Spending Bills
There were clear indications of presidential distaste for housing and depressed area legislation Democrats are trying to enact. Eisenhower didn't threaten definitely to veto them. He said he would use his best judgment. The depressed area bill is on his desk.

As for the West Virginia primary, in which Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) won a smashing victory, the President said he didn't know whether he agreed with some conclusions that the results have buried the religious issue in American politics.

Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, defeated Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, a Congregationalist, in a state that is 95 per cent Protestant, in the Democratic presidential primary.

The President suggested putting to his attorney general a question whether the example of six Nashville stores in opening lunch rooms to Negroes was a desirable pattern for other cities to follow. Local conditions must be taken into account, he said, even assuming that "I have the wisdom of Solomon."

As for his recent announcement that underground nuclear explosions will be resumed for testing purposes, Eisenhower said this will be in collaboration with Great Britain and the Soviet Union—a point that hadn't been clear before.

Younger Castellano Enters Plea Of Guilty

HENRY D. Castellano, 31, Edgewater, N. J., yesterday pleaded guilty to bank robbery charges before Judge John W. Murphy, in U. S. District Court in Scranton.

Judge Murphy set no date for sentencing. Castellano is being held in lieu of $50,000 bail on the charge.

Meanwhile, the U. S. Marshal's office in Scranton said that Ralph Antonio Castellano, 59, of Little Ferry, N. J., is expected to arrive in Scranton sometime during the weekend.

The elder Castellano, an uncle of Henry, was arrested Sunday in South Carolina and waived extradition. He is also held in lieu of $50,000 bail.

The two Castellanos are accused of the robbery of the West End Branch of Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co. last Wednesday, in which $34,285.75 was taken. All but $5,349.75 has been recovered.

There was no indication when Mrs. Cecilia Staskiel, 39, who gave her address as Kulpmont, will be brought back to Pennsylvania.

The woman, identified as the elder Castellano's wife, although booked under her maiden name, is charged with aiding Castellano after the bank robbery, knowing he had committed the crime. Her bail is $15,000.

Bought Car Here
State Police yesterday traced the route taken by the elder Castellano after the holdup.

They said he hitched a ride from Cherry Valley Road to Stroudsburg with Rev. C. Clyde Levergood, pastor of Cherry Valley Methodist Church Wednesday night.

Levergood left Castellano off at Dreher Ave. and Main St. and the holdup man is believed to have walked to East Stroudsburg where he paid $150 for a 1950 Chevrolet at the Robert Heller used car lot on N. Courtland St., using the name Castellano and giving Shafer's Motor Court, East Stroudsburg, as his address.

Heller put a temporary Pennsylvania license plate on the car and it was this plate Castellano later transferred to the 1958 Oldsmobile he purchased in New Jersey for the trip south.

Castellano then drove from East Stroudsburg to his home in Little Ferry, police said.

Ike Not Welcome, Khrushchev Hints

WASHINGTON (AP)—Barbed comments by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Wednesday suddenly pulled the welcome mat from under President Eisenhower's goodwill visit to the Soviet Union.

Administration officials were plainly startled by Khrushchev's remark that Eisenhower might be an embarrassing guest because he approved spy-flights over the Soviet Union.

"The Russian people would say I was mad to welcome a man who sends spy planes over here like that," the Premier told reporters in Moscow.

This newest maneuver by Khrushchev raised the prospect he might pull back his invitation to Eisenhower or that Eisenhower might cancel or delay the 10-day visit set to start June 10.

Khrushchev's free-wheeling personal comment at a news conference also appeared to raise East-West tensions another notch in advance of the summit conference starting in Paris May 16.

The White House and State Department greeted Khrushchev's words with a frosty no comment.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty reinforced the official silence with these words: "I haven't any comment—P-E-R-I-O-D. That's about all. I don't expect there will be any."

An Eisenhower associate, expressing what he called a personal view, doubted that Eisenhower would seek to cancel his trip because of Khrushchev's words. The President was described as eager to make the visit because this official said he sincerely believes it might lead to an easing of tensions.

Eisenhower views the sharp words exchanged between the Soviet Union and the United States since the spy incident as cold war jockeying for advantage prior to important negotiations, this informant said.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. Dies; Gifts Total $350 Million

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—John D. Rockefeller Jr., who poured millions of dollars into a worldwide program of philanthropy, died in a Tucson hospital Wednesday at the age of 86.

A spokesman for Rockefeller's physician attributed death to pneumonia and heart strain. Rockefeller, a frequent winter visitor to Tucson, had been ill for several months.

Admitted to the hospital last December, Rockefeller remained there until being discharged two weeks ago. He was readmitted Monday when his condition became serious, and members of the family were called to his bedside.

His son, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, arrived by plane only a few hours before the death.

No estimate of Rockefeller's personal fortune was available. But his great wealth was evident in known gifts totaling more than $350 million dollars.

In this, as in his business career, Rockefeller followed the footsteps of his father, who built up the family fortune through the Standard Oil Co., making their name synonymous with philanthropy throughout the world.

His father gave away more than 530 millions before his death in 1937 and other members of the family have been responsible for generous but little known benefactions.

The elder Rockefeller was in his 98th year when he died in Florida. The total gifts of the Rockefeller family in past, present and future generations is conservatively estimated at more than one billion dollars.

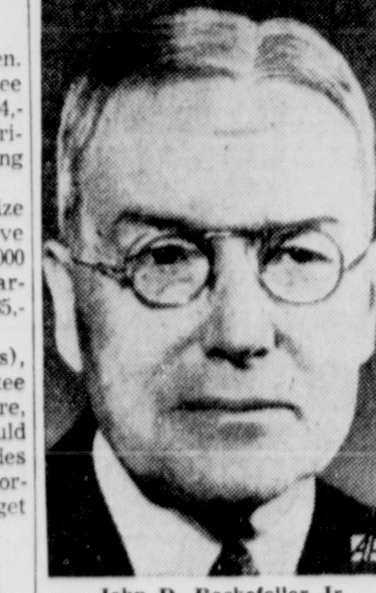

This does not include interest on endowments financing such organizations as the Rockefeller Foundation, General Education Board and Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Rockefeller Jr. was responsible for construction of New York's Rockefeller Center and made the gifts of the $15-million-dollar site for a home for the United Nations that brought the world organization to New York.

Rockefeller graduated from Brown University in 1897 with a Phi Beta Kappa key for scholastic attainment. He immediately went to work for his father and for more than 20 years before his father's death managed the family fortune.

In 1901, Rockefeller married Abby Greene Aldrich, daughter of U. S. Sen. Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island. They had six children, a daughter and five sons—Abby, John D. III, Nelson, Laurence, Winthrop and David.

Mrs. Rockefeller died in 1948 and in 1951, Rockefeller married Martha Baird Allen of Providence, R. I., who was with him when he died.

Army Center At Tobyhanna Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee Wednesday approved a $1,182,094,000 military construction authorization bill for the year beginning July 1.

The measure would authorize $182,000 for the Army Reserve Center, Tobyhanna, Pa., $240,000 for an Army National Guard armory at Lehigh, Pa., and $185,000 for one at Plymouth, Pa.

Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss), chairman of the subcommittee which considered the measure, said the Senate probably would act on it Friday. The bill provides more than one the House authorized March 9, but less than budget requests to the Senate.

Census Finished In Two States

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1960 census has been completed in South Dakota and Vermont and both show gains in population since the 1950 count.

The Census Bureau announced on Wednesday a preliminary 1960 population total for South Dakota of 677,372. This compared with the 1950 tally of 632,740.

For Vermont, this year's total is 387,081. The count 10 years ago was 377,747.

The bureau said the totals, based on preliminary field counts, are subject to revision. Final census figures for each state will be announced during the summer on a state-by-state basis.

2,000 Cheer Submarine Crew
NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—The USS submarine Triton triumphantly returned home Wednesday on a note of sentiment from an epochal submerged voyage around the world.

Flying from the highest perspective was a weather-beaten American flag that brought pride to the skipper Capt. Edward L. (Ned) Beach.

The flag, which once flew over a cruiser commanded by Beach's late father, Capt. Edward L. Beach Sr., was a symbol of the atomic-powered Triton, the world's mightiest submarine.

More than 2,000 persons, including the jubilant families, greeted the 447-foot Triton in a downpour of rain as she moored at State Pier after nearly 84 days and 41,500 miles beneath all of the world's great oceans.

There was quiet excitement at first as the giant Triton nosed alongside the Thames River pier. But moments later as the officers and crew stepped on solid ground for the first time since Feb. 16, the scene changed swiftly into a noisy reunion as wives and children rushed to embrace their husbands and fathers.

The band played "Around the World in 80 Days"—an unneeded reminder the atomic-powered craft had just completed a trip in which she was submerged just a few hours short of 84 days. At brief, but delayed welcome home ceremonies, Secretary of the Navy William B. Franke presented two citations, a commendation award for heroism to Torpedoman 3.C. Allen W. Steele of Clarksburg, Md., and a Presidential Unit Award to the Triton "for making the first submerged circumnavigation of the world."

Steele received the citation for meeting a serious emergency during the Triton's underwater voyage. While at his torpedo post April 25, Steele heard a hydraulic oil pipe break. He moved promptly into action and shut down the valves to prevent more serious trouble.

Vice Adm. Hyman Rickover, chief of the Atomic Energy Commission's nuclear reactor branch, watched the presentations closely, and took a bow.

Pays Costs, Freed After Hearing

A MAHANOCY CITY man charged with taking an East Stroudsburg resident's auto was released after a hearing yesterday following his payment of $34 in fines and costs on a charge of disorderly conduct and driving too fast for conditions.

The arrest of Leo P. Conway, 45, took place following an accident near the intersection of Washington and Starbird Sts. at about 9:25 p.m. Monday, when a car owned by Myron Ehrlich, 16 S. Courtland St. hit a parked car owned by Galt P. Treible, 403 Normal St.

Police Reported
Conway took the car from a place in front of Ehrlich's Market, S. Courtland St., just before the accident, police reported. Two blocks away.

In a hearing held before Justice of the Peace Marshall Neyhart, charges of larceny of a motor vehicle were dropped by Ehrlich when Conway paid for the damage to the auto.

At the time of the accident, police reported they were unable to get a doctor to test Conway for intoxication.

Huguinin, who received his bachelor of science degree from MIT in 1959, is a graduate student at Harvard.

He will be one of the nine new Junior Fellows provided with facilities necessary for study and a stipend ranging from $3,500 to $5,500 per year.

Truck Driver Found Innocent

RICHARD John Jackson, III, Moscow, yesterday was found innocent by a Monroe County Court jury on charges of driving while under the influence of liquor.

The jury directed that costs be paid by the county. Jackson was arrested after he attempted to remove his stalled tractor-trailer from the Seventh St. bridge in Stroudsburg during a heavy snow storm last March 3.

Dist. Atty. James R. Marsh presented the Commonwealth case, while J. Joseph McCluskey represented Jackson. Judge Fred W. Davis late yesterday recessed the trial of Mrs. Patricia Harrison Robinson, 44, Pearl St., Stroudsburg, charged with larceny of $1,600 from the Five Points Tavern, Main St., Stroudsburg, with testimony virtually completed.

Mrs. Robinson is being represented by Edwin Krawitz, court-appointed attorney.

Judge Davis called the recess to permit drawing of a jury to try Lee S. Keller, Stroudsburg, charged with assault and battery.

Changed Plea
After the jury was drawn, Keller changed his plea from not guilty to nolle contendere and was placed on probation for three months by Judge Davis.

Keller was represented by Russell Mervine and Lester Brown. Nolle contendere means that the charge is not contested.

Forestry Group Meets

A REGULAR meeting of the Officers, Directors and Members of the Steering Committee, Pocono Forestry Assn., was held in President Dale Learn's Office on Friday.

It was reported at this meeting that a letter submitted to the Pennsylvania Department of Highways in Harrisburg protesting a proposed road location through the Bruce Lake Wilderness Area in Pike County was answered by Secretary Park Martin.

Martin stated that an alternate route was being studied which would be located north of Bruce Lake.

The Association Tree Planter purchased in March 1960, has been used by various landowners on the Pocono Area to plant in excess of 100,000 trees. This unit has been used with much success in its first year in the area.

This group is open to all who enjoy the outdoors and appreciate the need for "Keeping The Poconos Green And Clean."

Those desiring additional information concerning the accomplishments, activities, and program of the Association should write to: Pocono Forestry Association, P. O. Box 175, East Stroudsburg, Pa.

Carbon's Population Dips 5,081 Persons In 10 Years

CARBON County's population declined 5,081 persons during the 10 years from 1950 to the present, according to preliminary figures released yesterday by Harry E. Hartman, district supervisor for the Bureau of the Census.

Hartman listed the population in a preliminary count at 52,477 compared to 57,558 in 1950. The 1940 census figure was 61,735.

Subject To Revision
Hartman said the total announced is believed to be substantially correct, but is subject to revision after returns for non-residents are credited to their proper locality and other routine checks have been made.

No major revision in the figures is expected.

DV Scouts Calvacade Tomorrow

THREE thousand Boy Scouts from the Delaware Valley Area Council will participate in the "Cavalcade of Scouting" to be held Friday and Saturday at the Blue Valley Farm Show building, between Bangor and Pen Argyl.

Based on the theme, "Tomorrow's America," the event is being held in connection with the 50th anniversary celebration of the Boy Scout movement.

Troops and Cub Scout packs will represent each of the four districts: Pocono, Blue Mountain, Sullivan Trail and Warren.

The show will be open Friday from 7:30 to 10 p.m. and Saturday from 2 to 10 p.m. The scouts will present a stage show both nights at 8:30 and also a cook-o-rama.

Other special events will include music by the Bangor Drum and Bugle Corps at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, the Pinewood Derby at 2 p.m., an exhibition by the drill team and honor guard of the Tobyhanna Signal Depot at 4:45 p.m., Explorer field sports tournament at 3:30 p.m. and silver bugle contest at 5 p.m.

Fallout Shelter
A model of a home-type family shelter will be displayed by Civil Defense.

Entering booths at the main building will be the following Boy Scout troops: 41, East Bangor; 102, Bangor; 95, Paradise Township-Swiftwater; 98, Brodheadsville; 50, Pen Argyl; 81, East Stroudsburg, and 71, Portland.

Cub Scout packs: 102, Bangor; 301, Effort; 83, East Stroudsburg; 41, East Bangor; 90, Canadensis.

Entering booths in the cavalcade tent are the following troops: packs and posts: Troop 45, Bangor; Post 82, Middle Smithfield Township; Troop 91, Tobyhanna; Troop 92, Delaware Water Gap; Pack 36, Roseto, and Troop 36, Roseto.

ESSC Girl Entry In Miss Pocono

MISS Joan Hinsdale, East Stroudsburg College sophomore whose home is Philadelphia, has entered the annual Miss Pocono Mountains Scholarship Pageant scheduled Saturday night in the college auditorium.

The pageant, a Miss America preliminary contest, will begin at 8:30 o'clock. Tickets are $1.50 and proceeds will benefit Stroudsburg Business and Professional Women's Welfare Project. They are available from members of the club as well as from local business firms in the Stroudsburgs. Miss Hinsdale, who won second place in last year's contest, is a 125-pound, brown-eyed, brunette who stands 5 foot 8 inches tall, light complexion, measuring 34-24-35. She will present a dramatic skit as her 3-minute routine talent demonstration.

Miss Hinsdale was co-captain of color-guard for Abraham Lincoln High School. She trains horses as a hobby and raises collie dogs when she is not collecting shells, swimming, water-skiing, or playing tennis.

She plans to become an elementary teacher after graduating from college and has had special training in fashion modeling.

High Cost Of Smokes

EASTBOURNE, England (AP)—Britain's Wholesale Tobacco Trade Assn. predicts that in 10 to 15 years about half as many Brits will smoke as now because it will cost too much. A pack of 20 popular brand cigarettes now costs about 56 cents.

Sterling School Unit To Elect Aides

STERLING — The Sterling District Sabbath School Association Convention will be highlighted by the election and installation of officers, and a workshop, and will be conducted at the Maplewood Evangelical United Brethren Church on May 13.

Supper will be served from 5 to 6 p.m., the cost of which will be defrayed by a freewill offering.

The evening session will begin with registration at 6:30 p.m., with Mrs. Alice Buck and Everett Snow in charge. The business meeting and election of officers, with Mrs. Robert Rochfort, of Sterling, presiding will follow at 7 p.m.

Rev. B. B. Bosworth, host pastor, will direct a hymn sing at 7:30, and there will be special music. Mrs. Rochfort will bring greetings and announcements at 8 p.m., and Rev. Arthur B. Campney, pastor of the LaAnna-South Sterling-Greentown charge, will lead devotions at 8:10 p.m.

Workshop At 8:30

The workshop will begin at 8:30. Theme is "Materials and Teaching Techniques for Children, Youth and Adults." The first group will be directed by Mrs. Edmund Milner, of Dunmore; the second, by Gerald Major, executive director of Youth For Christ, Scranton; and the third, by Russell McCurdy, of Hamlin.

Installation of officers will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Frederick G. Fulmer, pastor of the New-foundland Moravian Church, at 9:15 p.m. The evening's program

Walter Urges Eisenhower To Okay Development Bill

REP. Frances E. Walter, Easton Democrat, has urged President Eisenhower to approve the area redevelopment proposal recently passed by Congress and sent to the White House.

Walter said he made the request on behalf of unemployed coal miners and other citizens residing in economically distressed areas in Northeastern Pennsylvania and throughout the United States and added:

"Hundreds of thousands of American families need this legislation for survival and count on your affirmative action."

Open Skies A Must

A serious doubt as to whether President Eisenhower will go through with his announced plans for a visit to Russia was expressed yesterday in the wake of remarks made by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The Russian leader seemed put out by statements attributed to Mr. Eisenhower after an American plane was reported shot down while on an espionage mission over the Soviet Union. He then raised the question whether the President should visit Moscow as planned.

Mr. Eisenhower earlier in the day chided Khrushchev for the tremendous propaganda attack launched against the United States as a result of the American pilot's unfortunate experience of falling into Russia's hands. He also challenged the Kremlin to a mutual "open skies" agreement which would lessen, at least, the practice of spying on each other.

It's strange that Khrushchev would make such a hullabaloo over this one craft penetrating Soviet territory when he has known all along that American spy planes have been conducting similar successful missions for a number of years.

The answer, of course, is that up to now the Communist leader has not dared to admit to his people or the world that Russia has been unable to intercept the American flights.

He could not afford to let everyone know that U.S. pilots were flying high-altitude missions over Russia and returning with photographs of military installations, defense preparations, industrial expansion and other secret information impossible to obtain otherwise from behind the Iron Curtain.

Mr. Khrushchev's own spies have done right well by Russia with their espionage and sabotage activities both in and out of this country for many years. This has made it unnecessary for Soviet planes to attempt spy missions into the heart of the United States to obtain our secrets.

But let everyone know that Russia does operate an extensive spy network—the world's biggest—and Mr. Khrushchev's charge that our flights are "acts of aggression" will be understood for what it is—brash hypocrisy.

Unfortunate as the flight of Francis Powers, the captured U.S. intelligence flier might have been in many respects, it nevertheless brings out into the open a subject that should have been aired publicly long ago. It has been the topic for previous summit discussions and will likely take precedence in the forthcoming high-level talks in Paris.

Now that it is out in the open, President Eisenhower should take advantage of the opportunity to press for his "open skies" program even more vigorously than he has in the past. The United States cannot afford to accept any other arrangement, lest we run the risk of total annihilation at the hands of a ruthless dictator nation bent on ruling the world.

In his concluding article on the background to the summit, Dr. Kurt Wimer suggests ways of facilitating an early exchange of views between the President and congressional leaders through a summit council. The reactions of leading presidential candidates (Vice-President Nixon, Senator Humphrey and Senator Symington) are discussed. (Editor's Note: Mr. Wimer has received detailed letters from the above mentioned presidential candidates. The letters are available upon request.)

It is often overlooked that the course of action which led to President Wilson's failure was not his first choice. While still president of Princeton University, he admonished the President to undertake a confidential communication with the leaders of the Senate while his plans are in course.

Apparently with this guiding principle in mind he called the Senate into special session early in 1917 in order to "disclose" to the senators "without reserve" his plans for a post-war international organization.

Shortly after making these overtures, however, he became aware of opposition to his plans for a league of nations from leading members of the opposition in the Senate. Wilson, therefore, decided on a different approach which, in the circumstances, held out greater promise of success.

Since the Senate had never defeated a treaty of peace, it presumably would not do so after the greatest war in history. Accordingly, he decided to base the program for making the peace on executive authority and to put the Senate before a fait accompli which the Senate—he hoped—had no choice but to accept.

In short, he took a calculated risk convinced that "the Senate will have to take its medicine."

A Summit Council? The struggle over ratification of the covenant of the League of Nations shows that President Wilson's crucial decision was made long before the effects of his policies came to light. In order to avoid similar outcomes in the future, early cooperation between the president and congressional leaders is indicated.

As we have seen, Wilson clearly recognized the advisability of such a course, but, at a crucial moment in history he failed to act according to his earlier prescription with dire results to himself and the nation. Consideration should therefore be given to the establishment of machinery which would bring together leading members of the executive and legislative branches at a time when policies are being formulated. Perhaps the creation of an Executive-Legislative Advisory Council for summit meetings is indicated.

Such a council should be composed of the leading members of Congress in foreign relations and such additional members as the President considers advisable. The President would preside over the meetings of the council and would be in complete control of it.

The usefulness of an Executive-Legislative Advisory Council would depend somewhat on the circumstances in a specific situation. Given a consensus in the council, positively or negatively, the deliberations would be very meaningful. If there is general backing for the President's program the council could give the President tangible and effective support which could take many forms.

Similarly, a consensus in the council against major presidential policies would familiarize the President early of the nature and extent of the opposition to a contemplated course. In the absence of a consensus the role of the council would obviously be reduced.

On a minimum basis it would merely provide opportunity for an independent review of possible courses of action. But even in this case the possibility of a unified approach would be tested.

Reactions of Candidates A detailed outline of the proposed council was submitted recently to presidential candidates of both parties. Those who responded were, without exception, in sympathy with the basic aims of the proposal.

Vice-President Nixon stated: "While I do not believe that a formal Advisory Council of the type you suggest could be set up at this time, we should constantly work toward realization of the objectives which this council would be designed to meet."

The Vice-President noted further that the contemplated council "would serve to authorize a situation which already prevails to a certain extent on a more informal basis."

Sen. Hubert Humphrey expressed the opinion that "it would perhaps prove helpful to have a smaller working group such as that proposed... consider and then advise the President personally." The senator suggested, however, that "several considerations" be kept in mind in evaluating the proposal, such as the separation of powers or the responsibility of the President "to make the final decisions with regard to foreign policy."

Sen. Stuart Symington was particularly interested in the plan which he considered "a constructive one." He cautioned, however, that such a council "should not involve any shift of responsibility from the Executive to the Legislature."

In particular he was concerned that a "failure of the advisory group to endorse a policy should not be such as to undermine the Executive's effectiveness in negotiations." Since under the suggested plan the President would be in complete charge of the meetings of the council he could determine the procedures as well as select the topics for discussion.

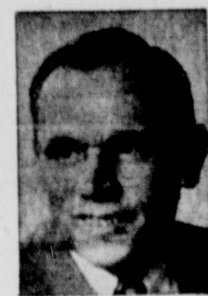

Furthermore, the President alone would decide whether and to what extent advice that has been tendered should be followed. It is thus clear that the institutionalization of relations between the President and congressional leaders in an Executive-Legislative Advisory Council would not reduce significantly the powers of the President or for that matter those of congressional leaders. On the other hand, the council would provide a valuable opportunity for early cooperation between the President and leaders of Congress.

Must Be Nonpartisan In the face of the challenge to the Western World the United States can no longer afford partisan foreign policies or an approach to summit strategy in which the position of the executive differs materially from that of the legislature.

Since, on the eve of President Eisenhower's trip to Paris, there is little evidence of partisanship or executive-legislative rivalry over summit policies, the need for an Executive-Legislative Advisory Council may seem remote. Nevertheless, the experience of President Wilson reminds us that effects of decisions—or of omissions—may become apparent at a later stage.

If the danger of what has been called the "Woodrow Wilson Effect" is to be avoided, an Executive-Legislative Advisory Council may well pave the way for the formulation of a unified, constructive and creative program for summit meetings which has the backing of both parties and both branches of the government.

West Virginia Liked One Tune Better

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Spying Is Constant

Espionage is a constant and normal activity of government. All governments engage in it, according to and their means and their purposes. It is often referred to by such fancy names as intelligence or information, but it is always the same task.

A competent agent does not get caught. He commits suicide or he melts away. A spy that is caught deserves death from either side. When one engages in such activities he knows what he is doing.

He knows that there are practically no very significant rewards, except the satisfaction of having served his country. His job is not to get caught.

The professional agent often works for either side and sometimes for both sides. Such a spy is usually called a double agent. Often a double agent is known to both sides as such and is used to plant false information.

He is valuable for leads. Also he is sometimes watched and tailed in the hope that he will lead to the real man, his employer.

Soviet Russia has maintained an open and a secret espionage corps in this country, at least, since 1920. The open espionage corps is the Communist Party of the United States. Every member of that party owes allegiance to the mother country of socialism, Soviet Russia.

Every member of that party literally is a spy upon the United States, but not every member is sufficiently intelligent for espionage which is one of the most skilled professions on Earth, requiring abilities far beyond most men.

Therefore Soviet Russia employs two other agencies in this country. One is the Communist Underground of skilled and even brilliant Americans with special abilities. Such persons as the Rosenbergs were this kind of agent and their organized efforts made it possible for Soviet Russia to spy on the atom bomb was invented and manufactured.

There were many others. Whittaker Chambers, one such person, has written the best account of the breed. Elizabeth Bentley, who was a courier among them, has also provided valuable information.

To add to these Americans and to instruct and direct them is a corps of Russians, Czechoslovaks, Hungarians and Red Chinese professionals who are engaged in this business. Each of the Warsaw Pact embassies, both in Washington and at the United Nations in New York is engaged in the usual espionage activities.

The United States does not usually shoot spies when caught. Americans are tried and sent to prison, often for such paltry charges as perjury as Alger Hiss was or for contempt of Congress, as many others were. Aliens are deported.

Attention must always be called to the fact that the Communist Party also maintains a United States government-in-exile in Mexico City.

The United States engages in espionage the same as any other government. Its principal agency for this work is the CIA, the Central Intelligence Agency, a very secret body. The Army, Navy, Air Force and State Department also gather information as do all similar agencies of all governments.

The effectiveness of the CIA cannot be judged because its work must be secret and it is impossible to know how much its evaluation of subjects is accepted by the State Department and the President who make policy.

The FBI also performs an important function in this regard. It deals with counter-espionage within the United States, its function is to discover what the spies of all countries are doing in the United States, but the FBI is permitted to make arrests only on order of the Attorney General.

If it is policy not to arrest a spy, as it was in the Roosevelt Administration concerning the Russian agent, J. Peters, the arrest is not made.

Khrushchev makes a great fuss over the American airman caught as a spy in the Ural. Our State Department, in one of the stupidest and unnecessary releases, admitted his espionage. To retaliate, the FBI should be instructed to pick up a dozen or so Soviet spies immediately, including a few American-born Russian agents. Two ought to be able to play at this game.

The most able spy I have ever known was Treibut-Lincoln, who, although an Austrian, became a member of the British Parliament. When I last saw him he was a Buddhist monk in Shanghai, saying his prayers in Sanskrit.

U-2 Saw Red Failure

By Robert St. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington.—Behind the belligerent shooting down of our U-2 "reconnaissance" plane is an ominous Soviet defense effort to hide the launching of a huge military satellite from the missile base in southwest Russia.

Our airborne intelligence playing hide-and-seek with the Soviet air defenses since last March, has detected four unsuccessful attempts to get this fantastic weapon into orbit.

The most recent of these "failures" was photographed on April 28 by one of the four high-flying U-2 jets operating from U.S. bases in Turkey.

According to intelligence information furnished Congressional leaders, that film shows a giant 200-foot rocket exploding in a flaming holocaust visible for hundreds of miles. The other three launching fizzes were detected on April 1, 7 and 13, by methods that still must remain secret.

All of the missile firings were observed at Russia's newest "Cape Canaveral," 70 miles north and east of Aral Sea in the Republic of Kazak. This secret missile base, located 450 miles west of where the U-2 jet was downed, was placed under intense U.S. surveillance earlier this year after Premier Khrushchev boasted about the development of a "fantastic new weapon."

Long range radar and occasional high-level flights were used to carry out the "surveillance" until six weeks ago.

Then, instructions came from Washington ordering the "reconnaissance" jets to "over-fly" the Soviet base at regular intervals and at a much lower altitude than the 80,000 foot level at which they had been flying.

The reason: The Central Intelligence Agency wanted photographs to verify a report that the Soviets were preparing to launch a prototype of a huge, H-bomb carrying satellite.

The mission was accomplished, but at the cost of one U-2 and an international incident.

Open Skies — The Lockheed U-2 jets have been aerially mapping large areas of Russia and her Eastern European satellites for the past three years.

This aerial cartography is being carried on with revolutionary new aerial cameras and from altitudes of 80,000 feet or higher.

This puts the U-2s well beyond the reach of any interceptor Russia now has, even the highly touted MIG-19, or any of Russia's ground-to-air missiles.

The U-2 also has been used to monitor the stratosphere for evidence of Soviet nuclear tests.

Such flights by U.S. planes have long been a sore point in U.S.-Soviet relations. State Department files are bulging with complaints.

Khrushchev went out of his way to raise this issue during Vice President Nixon's visit to Moscow. Contending the Russians are within their rights in destroying planes that "violate our territory," the Kremlin ruler demanded: "Wouldn't you do the same?"

Nixon replied he knew of no U.S. planes that had ever flown over Russia.

Mikhail Smirnovsky, counsel of the Soviet embassy, also raised the issue last October. Conferring at the State Department with then Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy, the Soviet diplomat told him bluntly that U.S. planes were in danger of being shot down if they "approach Russian borders or come within range of its air defenses."

U-2 Fallout — President Eisenhower knew all about the U-2 "reconnaissance" flights over Russia. That's what George Allen, golfing partner of the President, is telling his Washington friends. He also reports that the shooting incident hasn't changed the President's mind about going to the Summit or visiting Russia next month.

In talks with Congressional William Macomber has reported that some of our top Air Force officers still aren't convinced that the Soviets shot down the U-2 with a rocket. They contend that the 550-mile-an-hour jet was an extremely hard target to hit at 60,000 feet. It's their belief, according to Macomber, that the jet developed engine trouble and crashed when Pilot Francis G. Powers bailed out.

The new Soviet missiles the Russians are testing have engines that develop a thrust of 1,000,000 pounds.

Making Area Beautiful

Dear Mr. Editor: Ironical that those who righteously voted against a race-track for Monroe County, and (to quote Mrs. Arthur Rugh's letter in The Record) "who have enjoyed the serenity and security of our quiet, restful homes in these lovely Poconos" should have this complacency jarred by an incursion of bank robbers and the organized burglaries of a gang of young house-breakers! What, crime in Monroe without a race-track to blame for it!

It is about time, I feel, to test the sincerity of these people who say we should "capitalize on what we already have that fits so beautifully into our surrounding hills," etc.

To begin with, no one has a right to take credit for the "surrounding hills" since, after all, they were made by God. But what have the righteous done to enhance this beauty and make it known and attractive to the visitors upon whom they so largely depend for their livelihood? Nothing! Nothing but talk.

The fact is that, though Mrs. Rugh derides their "commercial purposes," it is the hotels, resorts, camps, clubs, hotels, inns, and similar providers of means for recreation who have added to the beauty and attractiveness of the Poconos.

It is private investment that has paid for this. We speak grandly of the boating, golfing, wild life, horseback riding as among the attractions of the Poconos; but where does one get these things? Only at the resorts.

Boating on beautiful lakes and rivers? Go to Tannimont or Shawnee, for instance. Golfing? Scores of places; but notably Pocono Manor since Art Wall drew the entire country's attention to the Poconos, as Gene Tunney did once before when he trained here for his fight with Jack Dempsey.

Wild animal life? Walk along it at the Pocono Animal Farm. Horseback riding? There are a dozen stables and clubs, such as the Pocono Saddle Club, where scores of young riders cut their own bridle paths. Laurel and rhododendron in blossom time? Don't miss Bushkill!

Romantic waterfalls? You'll find them beautifully landscaped at Bushkill. There are literally hundreds of such places on a varying scale, including the attractive inns along the main highways, that give the Poconos their reputation for hospitality in the midst of beauty.

We are about to promote another Laurel Festival, a most attractive affair, revived, I believe, by the late Gerald O'Neill of happy memory who made the Penn-Stroud nationally famous. The festival is intended to draw attention to the beauty of the laurel and rhododendron typical of the Poconos.

But where are all the laurels and rhododendrons? Only in resort areas or on private or state property. So far as I can recall there is not a single laurel bush growing in the Stroudsburgs upon public property unless it is around the foundations of old schools!

A couple of years ago Governor Leader told me that in planning the new highway through the Stroudsburgs, the state engineers were definitely taking into consideration the importance of beautiful vistas and appropriate landscaping. I wonder now if the governments of either borough are cooperating so that local efforts may be in harmony with those of the state. I doubt this, since what I hear of the highway is chiefly criticism of the blasting that goes on, the annoyance of re-directed traffic, and its effect upon the value of real estate.

I must assume that McMichael's and Brodhead Creeks—which should be two of the most beautiful streams flowing through any town in the state—will continue to be open ditches into which to throw old tires and tin cans.

It occurs to me now that when Van Yetter felt that something should be done about the litter along our beautiful roads, he had to go to Harrisburg and make a state issue of it.

And what, by the way, happened to the many thousands of tulip bulbs which the Government of Holland presented to the Stroudsburgs a few years ago?

Apparently, since these things relate only to beauty, they are of no interest to townspeople; but this I cannot believe, because it is an obvious fact that even in the poorest sections of town householders show great interest in keeping their homes neat and their private grounds attractive.

Whenever a suggestion is made about beautifying the town and improving its natural assets, the cry is immediately made: "We cannot afford it!"

This is no concern of mine since I do not pay borough taxes except for schooling; all I do is spend several thousand dollars every year along Main St.

But it does seem to me that any community that can afford to spend several millions of dollars for schools should be able to throw in a few hundred more to plant patches of tulips or clumps of laurel in empty spots where highways enter the town and along the banks of the streams.

What has this to do with race-tracks?

Well, we had a very religious servant once who said that eating candy was sinful. I couldn't understand her reasoning. "Candy," she explained, "has nourishment; but chewing gum ain't nothing but plain pleasure." If it's fun, it must be a sin!

So now, since the righteous won't let us have our fun, I should like to see if they can give us, instead, something constructive in the way of creating beauty for the community. Just a little bit of effort? Or is beauty sinful too?

Social Security Guide

Q. I am 51 years old. My wife is 41 and we have three children, age 6, 8, and 11. In October 1959, I had a heart attack, and my doctor tells me I'll never be able to work again. I understand that I can receive social security disability benefits beginning with May 1960, but what about my family? Will they be able to receive benefits also?

A. Yes. You and your wife should apply now for benefits for yourselves and the children. If your claim is approved, benefits will be payable to all of you beginning with May 1960.

Home Economics Exhibit Attracts Keen Attention

THE Home Economics Exhibits in Stroudsburg are attracting keen attention.

The exhibits were entered by girls enrolled in the Home Economics classes of public schools throughout the county and the displays have been arranged by the contestants themselves in various merchants windows.

The Leisure Time Activities class is attracting the most interest. This class offers a first award of $30, second of $25 and on down to tenth at $2.

Cooperating stores who have given space for displays and have entered into the promotion are Laurel Queen, Ted Getz, Donald's Shoes, Penney's, DeVivo and Quaresimo, Hobby House, United Army and Navy, Community Jewelers, David's Kiddy Togs, George's Shoes, Harold's Kiddy Shop, Herb's Men's Shop and E. A. Bell Insurance.

Jayal Shop, J. J. Newberry, Triangle Shoes, Fetherman's Paint Shop, Brite Cleaners, The Woman's Shop, Herman's Shoe Salon, Woolworth's Stores, E. Steinhauer, Nathan Smith, Wyckoff-Sears, Bud's Men's Shop, First Stroudsburg National Bank and Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co.

All entries in the contest are to be removed from the stores

Break Ground For Drive-In Theatre

GROUND was broken yesterday for the Skyline Drive-In Theater, located at the intersection of Routes 209 and 90 at Eagle Valley Corners.

Owners of the new theater are Charles H. Locke, owner of Newman's, Inc., and Jack W. Luckey, owner of Stroudsburg Photo Shop.

The theater will feature a 120-foot wide Cinemascope screen and will have a capacity of up to 800 cars.

Cafeteria

A cafeteria style food concession will be a feature.

Dee Adolph Rake is design engineer for the project. Construction is expected to be completed within four to five weeks. The entrance will be on Route 90 with the exit on 209.

Miss Bond To Present Recital

SELINGROVE — Two senior music students will present a recital in Seibert Hall, Susquehanna University, Selingsgrove, tomorrow night at 8:15. Both vocalists have studied voice for the past four years under Lavan R. Robinson, assistant professor of music.

The recitalists are Miss Joyce E. Bond, soprano, of Stroudsburg, and David Diehl, bass, of Fullerton, who last Saturday gave a preview of one of the pieces to be performed when they sang the duet "La ci darem la mano" from Mozart's opera "Don Giovanni" at the Awards Banquet of Susquehanna's Alumni Association. The recital program includes a number of solos as well as two duets.

Accompanist

Piano accompanist will be Mrs. Jean Harner, another music senior at Susquehanna, who is a resident of Sunbury, Pa.

Miss Bond is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bond, of R.D. 1, Stroudsburg, and a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School. A member of Susquehanna's Chapel Choir, she has been a frequent soloist with that group.

She is secretary of Sigma Alpha Iota, honorary music fraternity for women, and president of the senior honor house in campus. Miss Bond plans to teach music following graduation this month.

Elementary Concert At Eastburg

EAST Stroudsburg Area Joint Elementary School will hold its annual Music Concert Friday at 8 p.m. in the J. M. Hill School auditorium.

The choral program will feature folk songs from around the world.

The instrumental program will consist of several accordion solos, several numbers by a 150 flute-phon ensemble, and a musical selection by the elementary band.

Services Held For C. A. Lesoine

FUNERAL services were held yesterday for Clarence A. Lesoine, 67, Wooddale at 2 p.m. in the Lantierman Funeral Home, East Stroudsburg, Rev. Harold C. Eaton officiated.

Interment was in the Wooddale Union Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Russell Truesdale, Paul Muth, Stanley Newman, Russell C. Cramer, Robert White, and Justin Cramer.

Eldred Exhibit On Tomorrow

KUNKLETON — The annual science fair and art exhibit of the Eldred Township Elementary School will be held at the school Friday from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Constance Andrews supervised the art exhibits and all of the faculty assisted in the preparation of the science fair.

Good Marriage Has Problems

By Bobby Westbrook

"A good marriage is not a marriage without problems."

"It is a marriage where two people handle the problems of living together as human, not ideal beings in an incredibly complex and intimate relationship. It is a marriage where each can count on the others being there and project themselves as a unit into the future."

Richard Hey said last night at the dinner meeting of the Pennsylvania Area Planned Parenthood Assn. at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Mrs. Robert Hellmann, president of the local unit presided at the dinner when local members joined the area officers and delegates meeting in a two-day session here. She pointed out that Hey's talk on "Building Attitudes Toward Sex and Marriage" represents one of the four points of the Planned Parenthood Program: which includes family planning both for child spacing and infertility, and education for marriage.

"Expert On Marriage" Hey is supervisor of Education for Marriage and Family Living for the Marriage Council of Philadelphia, and is an instructor in family study at the School of Medicine of the University of Pennsylvania.

"Education for marriage begins at birth," he said. The ability of an individual to form a close relationship such as marriage is effected by whether he himself was wanted and loved, what his parents' relationships were to each other, and his own relationships with his peers and his community, he pointed out.

Even with these attitudes already set, there is a place where marriage education can help, he said, but it must be on a feeling not a factual level.

"Legal reasons given for marriage failures include incapability, finances, in-laws, and sex," he said, but added: "Behind these problems the most common cause of trouble is the inability or unwillingness of the individual to accept responsibility for his own emotions."

Small markers are given the same care and attention as the largest Monument.

Topping Evergreens Job Gardeners Dread To Do

TOPPING Evergreens: There's one job gardeners dread and that is cutting the tops out of their evergreen trees. Take the Arborvitae, for example. This evergreen shoots up into the air and if you don't cut the top out of it, the tree will lean over and look like a monster.

To cut the top out you simply take a large pair of clippers and reach inside, removing two or three feet of the top. Then take a pair of hedge shears and shape the remaining top into a dull point. You'd never know that the top was cut out. Spruce often need topping. To do this you cut out the top growth and a new leader will form.

And while we're on the subject of pruning, don't be afraid to shape up your yews and other evergreens. Spend a few minutes shearing the sides, topping the tops, and cutting out any dead growth. Evergreens will be a lot shapelier and stronger if you spend a few minutes each year pruning the tops and sides.

Fruit Trees, Rabbits

Many of our gardening friends (including ourselves) are still indignant about the damage rabbits caused to fruit trees during late winter snows. Are girdled trees a complete loss?

Yes, completely girdled trees will die within a few weeks or months. However, if half or more of the trunk is uninjured, the tree will likely heal over in time. Young fruit trees, one or two or possibly three years old, badly girdled can be cut off below the wounded area, leaving a stub or stump one to three inches above the soil. This stub will quite often send up new sprouts.

If you thin these sprouts or suckers out in one strong sprout, the resulting tree will rapidly form a new top which will produce fruit. Make sure the sprout comes from above the graft to insure the same variety. Otherwise you'll be nursing a wild fruit tree.

Older rabbit-damaged trees can be saved by bridge-grafting, a complicated process for amateurs. Unless your tree is quite valuable and productive, it'd pay you in the long run to replace such trees rather than try to salvage them.

Bird Guide

I'm often asked for the name of a book on birds found in the good books on Birds, but one which came to my office recently is the Audubon Land Bird Guide, having 312 pages of good bird information. The colored illustrations are good and the information is concise, delightful and easy to grasp. It's 312 pages are packed full of good material dealing with 275 species of birds. The 400 full color illustrations are well worth the price of $3.95, and I recommend the entire book to all bird lovers.

Question Box

Question of the Week: W. N. of Stroudsburg:

"I have some nice apple trees in my backyard — Macintosh, Spies, Cortland — but no matter how much I spray I still get wormy, knobby fruit. What am I doing that's wrong?"

Your fruit is infected with the apple maggot, probably the No. 1 pest of the gardener's home-grown apples. Also called the railroad worm, the maggot's original food was wild haws and crabapples.

It causes damage by puncturing the skin during egg laying and tunnels in the fruit, caused by the feeding of maggots that have hatched from eggs. The parent insect is a dark-colored fly the size of a common house fly. The flies emerge from the ground in about late June or early July.

CONTROL: (1) Be sure to collect dropped fruits of early varieties at least twice a week. Collected fruits should be immersed in water or buried under at least six inches of soil. (2) Treat your soil under the tree. This kills the maggots as they enter the soil.

Dieldrin is effective used at the rate of three level tablespoons of 50% wettable powder or one-half cup of the 15% emulsifiable concentrate (same as "wetable" liquid) for each 1000 sq. ft. to be treated.

Place the amount of material in five to 10 gallons of water and apply the entire amount evenly with a sprinkling can. Do this about July 1, and this should give protection for several years.

(3) Spray. Lead arsenate is still a proven material and should be used at rate of three pounds per 100 gallons of water. Spray trees the last week in June, and again about mid-July. Another about 1st and 15th of August. Be sure that the foliage is well covered, also the fruit. To be sure of good coverage, at least one half gallon of dilute spray should be used for each year of the tree's age, except for very young trees. No variety should be sprayed with lead arsenate within 35 days of harvest.

Politicians Eye Parity

WASHINGTON (AP)—An advisory committee proposed yesterday that the Democratic party campaign for farm votes this year on a promise to restore 90 per cent of parity price supports and rigid crop production controls.

This would re-establish farm programs in effect when the Eisenhower administration took over in 1953—programs that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has said are the root of present agricultural difficulties.

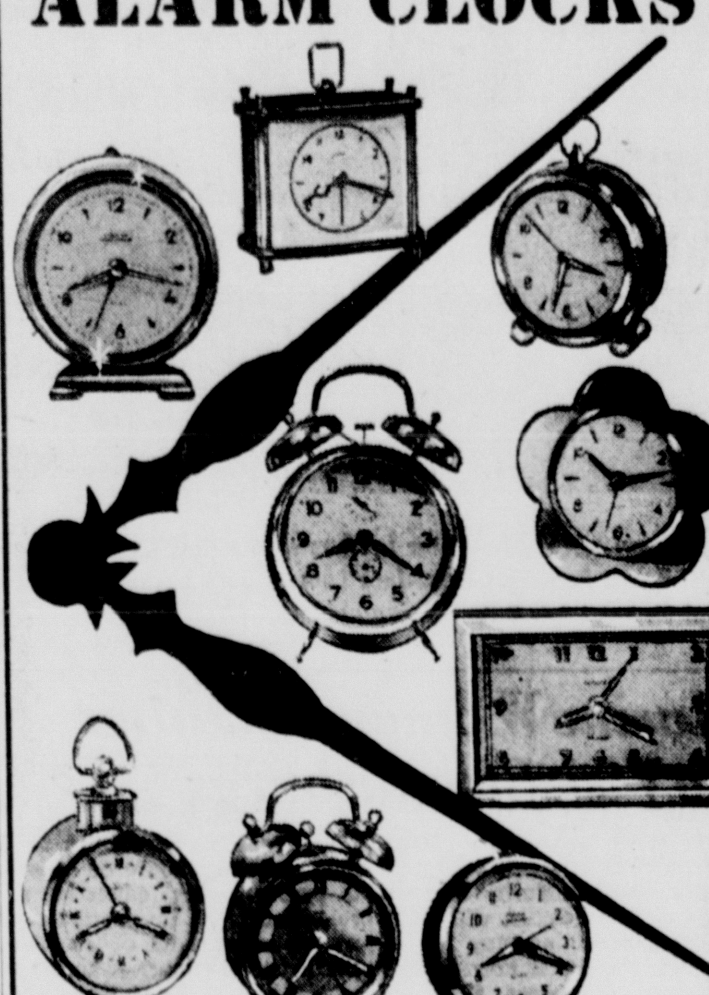

By contrast, the GOP administration has moved—and still seeks to move—toward lower price supports and greater freedom from controls. No product except tobacco is supported now in excess of 75 per cent of parity. Some are lower than that.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

The proposed new farm plank was drafted at a two-day meeting of the Advisory Committee on Farm Policy of the Democratic Advisory Council.

Spy Drama Sure Of Airing During Summit Conference

LONDON (AP)—The real-life drama of American photo spy in the Soviet Union seems assured of a thorough airing at next week's Big Four summit talks.

Nikita Khrushchev's handling of the affair has convinced Western envoys in Moscow that the Soviet Premier intends to discuss it with allied leaders in Paris at the conference opening Monday.

Presidents Eisenhower and De Gaulle and Prime Minister Macmillan are almost certain to refer to the incident, a high British source indicated Tuesday. He said it was the sort of thing that Western leaders may use to dramatize the need for urgent measures of disarmament.

Macmillan sent a personal message replying to a letter from Khrushchev Monday on the arrangements for the summit meeting. It came as a surprise. Earlier Macmillan's aides said Khrushchev's message did not call for an answer.

Khrushchev evidently had written to Eisenhower, De Gaulle and Macmillan in similar terms on questions relating to the detailed mechanics of the conference. He was replying to a communication De Gaulle sent as host for the talks.

Informants reported that in his message to Macmillan the Soviet Premier:

1. Agreed to negotiate in absolute secrecy.
2. Agreed to hold some sessions, perhaps including the kick-off, program-setting talk, without advisers present.
3. Failed to mention the duration of the conference. This may become something of an issue if Eisenhower goes through with his idea of having Vice President Richard M. Nixon sit in for him temporarily while Eisenhower visits Portugal May 23.

British leaders discussed the case of the downed American spy plane at a cabinet meeting. They felt Khrushchev's message showed he would not let the incident interfere with the Paris negotiations.

It was learned that reports from ments suggested Khrushchev was deal of "chauvinistic feeling" within the Soviet Union just before the summit meeting. They said he also was bent on offsetting any ideas in the West that he was becoming tamer.

Avoid Toss Of Coin

Dear Abby: I am in love with two boys and don't know which one to marry.

First there's Andy. He's sort of blond and sells insurance. Mama likes him, which helps a lot. He's very reliable and seems anxious to get married.

Then there's Tony. He's dark and sort of gives me the creeps. (But they're awfully nice creeps, if you know what I mean.)

I don't know which one I like best. In the daytime I like Andy, but I believe I like Tony better at night. Which one do you think would make the best husband for me?

ANDY OR TONY?

Dear "Andy or Tony?" Don't marry either one, if it's a toss-up. Date others and make comparisons. When "The One" comes along, you'll flip your lid—not a coin.

Dear Abby: The woman who signed herself "Helene" and said she wanted to divorce her husband because he might go blind at any moment was blind herself. Blind people can live happy, normal lives.

I am 13, Abby, but I know what I am talking about because my father is blind. He has never seen my mother, my sister or me. He went to college after he lost his sight and then he went to Law School. I don't mean to boast, but I think he is the most wonderful father and lawyer in the whole world. Sincerely yours,

CYNTHIA JEANNE RAMSEY

Dear Abby: My daughter Millie, who is 16, has been running around with a fellow who is 24. Now I find she's pregnant. He says he can't marry her because he can't support himself much less a wife. Can we force him to marry her?

I suppose I should tell you that when Millie was 15 she went out with an older man who got her drunk and got her in trouble. We were unable to get any help from the police in finding him because Millie wasn't sure of his name.

Should we try to force this second fellow to marry her? I can't raise another one of her mistakes.

MILLIE'S MOTHER

Dear Mother: You can't force a man to marry anyone. But he does have obligations toward the support of the child. Furthermore, a man who must be dragged by the neck to the altar would make anything but a desirable husband. How about Millie's moral behavior, Mother? Ask your clergyman or Family Service Association for help in getting your daughter back on the right track. She needs guidance, strength and supervision.

State Against Bank Merger Report Shows

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state will oppose 14 Pennsylvania national banks Thursday in a legal battle involving some 44 million dollars.

The Justice Department said yesterday that it will file its answer that day to the banks' suit challenging the constitutionality of the state's eight-mill tax on the shares of national and state banks. The state banks were not involved in the suit, filed in Dauphin County court several weeks ago.

The state intends to question the court's jurisdiction in the case at this point. It is the state's contention that the matter first should have been taken up with its Revenue Department and the Board of Finance and Review before going to the courts.

The Justice and Revenue Departments, meanwhile, have been holding conferences the past week to determine whether there is some course of action that can be taken to bring in the tax revenue tied up by the court suit or to speed up the court process.

Even so, said a spokesman, the issue "could run on for years" with appeals ultimately taken to the U.S. Supreme Court. The spokesman declined to be identified.

The issue is important in the fiscal plans of this biennium.

Crusade For Christ At Allentown

THE Allentown Fairgrounds will be the center of activity this week in preparation for the coming Greater Allentown Crusade for Christ sponsored by many area churches. The huge 5,000-capacity tent, one of the largest of its kind in use, will be erected Thursday with local men supplying manpower and equipment.

Serving as Evangelists in the interdenominational effort is the Rev. Myron S. Augsburg of Harrisburg, Virginia. While Augsburg is only thirty years of age, his unusual preaching ability has brought him into national prominence as one of the outstanding evangelists of the day.

He has served as pastor, college professor, and evangelist, as well as assisting in the opening of a mission program on the island of Jamaica. While Evangelist Augsburg is an ordained minister in the Mennonite church, his crusade here is thoroughly interdenominational, with many area churches of various denominations participating.

The ministry of Mr. Augsburg is sponsored by the Christian Laymen's Evangelistic Association, Inc., of Orrville, Ohio. This group of business men overseas all equipment needs as well as matters of finance. The modest salary received by Augsburg is underwritten by the laymen's group, thus crusade offerings go toward the local budget and not to team members individually.

Kenneth G. Masterman, member of the faculty of Eastern Pilgrim College in Allentown, will serve as crusade music director, with Mrs. Masterman as organist. Masterman will lead the large congregation in singing as well as directing the 200-voice crusade choir, made up of volunteers from area churches.

Driver Jailed In Fatalities

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The driver of an automobile in which three young men were killed was sentenced yesterday to an indefinite term at the Youth Rehabilitation Center near Canonsburg, Pa.

Judge J. Sydney Hoffman, who heard the case in Juvenile Court, imposed the sentence on Thomas J. Rush, Jr., of suburban Ridley Park, after Rush admitted he had been drinking before getting behind the wheel of the car.

Rush was the sole survivor of the crash, April 30, when a car rammed into a tree in Fairmount Park. Killed were Robert T. West, 20, and Thomas Sharp, 19, both of Philadelphia, and Thomas R. Manley, 16, of suburban Glenolden.

Police testified that Rush admitted drinking three beers before the accident.

They said fragments of broken glass found at the scene led them to believe the youths had some beer bottles with them and were on a joy ride when the car slammed into the tree at a speed of about 50 miles an hour.

GSA Selects 7 Newspapers

HARRISBURG (AP)—Seven newspapers were selected yesterday by the General State Authority for advertising a proposed new 25-million-dollar bond issue, including The Scranton Times.

The issue, to be bid June 7, is to be advertised three times: May 19, May 26 and June 2.

Forest Tracts Bids Sought

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Forests and Waters department yesterday called for bids May 31 for rental of seven forest tracts being opened to natural gas exploration and development.

If gas is discovered on the state land the bidder will be required to pay a royalty of four cents per 1,000 cubic feet in addition to lease charges.

Three of the tracts, totaling 7,811 acres, are located in Abbott Twp., Potter County; three other tracts totaling 10,760 acres are located in Noyes Twp. and Beech Creek Twp., Clinton County, and the other area is 3,456 acres in Elk Twp., Tioga County.

Revenues from the gas royalties and rentals goes into the state oil and gas fund for construction of new state parks and flood control projects.

Bartonsville

THE JUNIOR Crusaders of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School will meet on Friday night, May 27, instead of on the regular meeting date. This change is necessitated because of the Stroud Union Music Festival being on the usual Junior Crusader meeting night.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Shaw, of Los Angeles, California, will celebrate their third wedding anniversary on May 25. Mrs. Shaw is the former Bertha Learn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Learn, of this place.

Members of Haviland Heller's Young Peoples Class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School will be in charge of church school sessions on May 15. Carl Cyphers will serve as superintendent; Barry Bond will read the Scripture lesson; and James Possinger will lead the responsive reading.

Train Window Hit By Stones

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Another train window was shattered here last night by thrown stones and five boys were arrested for indulging in the prank.

George Overby, a Reading baggage agent, was showered with glass when a stone found its mark on a train. He was not hurt.

It was this same kind of stone hurling that caused the death a week ago of a woman aboard a Monday night's stone throwing was only two stations away from the area in which Mrs. Lydon was killed. The five youngsters were apprehended along Reading Co. tracks by a railroad detective.

State Probers On Tax Sprees

PITTSBURGH (AP)—State investigators visited business establishments in eight Beaver County communities yesterday to collect past due sales taxes.

The move was part of a "new, hard-hitting" campaign to collect all the funds due the state from the sales tax.

Jerome Seder, director of the western regional office of Revenue Dept., said the only departure from normal procedure is that 30 men are working an area where only one or two worked before.

He said it is impossible to estimate the amount of cash the state will gain from the campaign.

The surprise drive was started last Thursday in Beaver Falls.

Communities visited Tuesday were Ambridge, Aliquippa, Baden, Beaver, Midland, Monaca, New Brighton and New Galilee.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

I wish our June brides and bridegrooms could have heard Richard Ley at the dinner last night. Might have eased some of the shock, as he pointed out, of the young husband finding out that his dainty bride leaves curtains of wet nylon in the bathroom or of the young bride who finds out that her Greek statue really needs that deodorant after working in the yard.

One of his best points, I felt, was that being "taken for granted" is not the tragedy but the blessing of marriage. That one partner can count on the other's being there, despite the drudgery, the hostility and the disappointments which are as much a part of life as the ecstasy.

It was a good talk, and one way you could tell was from the discussion which followed with an interchange of ideas of the place of the man in the family, the place of discipline. There incidentally, he said that parents who are happy with each other find it much easier to say "no" to their children, because they aren't trying to live out their own frustrations through them.

There were plenty of stimulating points of departure due for discussion, but, as usual, I just had to depart, heel-clacking all the way. Someday I'm going to take time to wash my face before I go to a party, stay until its over and take notes on the jokes instead of the points.

And maybe find, like Cinderella, that everything turns to rag, and pumpkins and mice, afterward. But from the sounds coming from Hunsicker's after the meeting last night, I doubt it.

Mrs. Cesare Surprised At Stork Shower

Mrs. Barbara Cesare was honored at a surprise stork shower recently at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Anne Serfass, 301 Pine Avenue, Stroudsburg. Thinking that she was attending a birthday party for Mrs. Serfass, Mrs. Cesare was surprised by many friends and gifts.

Those attending were: Mrs. Ellen McCarthy, Mrs. Nancy Farry, Mrs. Anna Fritz, Mrs. Core Williams, Mrs. Mary Germain, Mrs. Evelyn Klein, Mrs. Frances Meredith, Mrs. Roberta Bach, Mrs. Mildred Williams, Mrs. Josephine Abbruzzese, Mrs. Judy Kresge, Mrs. Amelia Serfass, and the hostess, Mrs. Anne Serfass.

Those sending gifts but unable to attend were: Mrs. Lorraine Kitchen, Mrs. Anna Rohrer, Mrs. Beulah Fralick, Mrs. Donna Phillips, Mrs. Nancy Reifeinger, Mrs. Velma Evans, and Mrs. Vilma Tremaine.

VFW Aux. Opens Campaign

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Aux. opened their magazine campaign this week with the proceeds to be used to purchase additional hospital equipment for use in local homes.

The group also gave contributions to the VFW Carnival Fund in Wilkes-Barre, to the Department President's gift fund and to the Chapel of the Four Chaplains.

Initiation Held By Women Of The Moose

New members initiated at the meeting of the Women of the Moose held at the CIU included Mae Fritz, Evelyn G. Fredericks, Eliza Whitmore, Martha A. Boyer, Brenda Van Why, all sponsored by Josephine Shafer. Five new candidates made application.

Senior Regent Romayne La-Bar presided at the meeting when it was reported that Lila Lesoine and Agnes Lugg were on the sick list.

At the nine o'clock prayer service, conducted by Helen Roberts, donations were given for Mooseheart.

Plans were made for the anniversary banquet to be held May 18 at Readers Inn, featuring Chinese food. Reservations and transportation may be arranged with Anna Divine, HA 1-6762, after 4 p.m.

Tom Thurnb Wedding

Mountainhome—The Dorcas Circle of the Mountainhome Methodist Church will hold a Tom Thurnb wedding at the church on Saturday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Barrett Teen-agers Brighten YMCA Branch In Own Project

Barrett—There's a new look at the Barrett YMCA thanks to the efforts of some 16 teenagers who spent the May Day weekend painting the interior with the paint they had bought themselves.

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y Girls of the Barrett Branch of the YMCA held a bake sale in April and with the proceeds bought enough paint to do all of the interior at the Y.

They enlisted the help of teen-age boys and under the supervision of Fred Albert, father of one of the boys, worked over the weekend and turned out such a creditable job that visitors to the YMCA have been doing a double-take ever since.

The girls have now turned to a car wash to be held on May 30 to raise extra money to buy material to make new drapes to go with the new paint.

The Spring splurge of activities follows a pattern they have followed through the year. In other community service projects, the girls have made up a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family. They gave an Easter party for the Barrett Pre-School Center, coloring the eggs, making the baskets and filling them with candy.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y girls have been following the example of their elders and have adopted a shut-in for their very own. They gave her a decorated Christmas tree and a stocking filled with gifts; gave her flowers on Valentine's Day and placed an Easter lily in the church in her honor, which was presented to her after the service.

They also plan to help with selling poppies for the American Legion this year.

Jungle Decorations Add Atmosphere As Women Close Study Of Africa

An African palaver, complete with palm trees and fresh pineapples was enjoyed in the social rooms of Grace Lutheran Church of East Stroudsburg by the members of the United Lutheran Church Women of St. John's Lutheran Church of Stroudsburg, and St. Paul's of Tannersville, as well as the host ULCW.

The devotional program was conducted in the main Sunday School room with Mrs. William F. Wunder leading. Prayer was offered by Pastor Wunder, and a group of girls from the Junior Choir sang "Beautiful Saviour" Arr. by Christiansen. Mrs. Raymond Herman played the piano and directed the girls, Sharon Smith, Linda Bosman, Linda Melvin, Jacklyn Voller, Gretchen Treible, and Amy, Sally and Molly Wunder.

"Kelsi of Zorvor," a 30-minute color film was shown to the group of 80 women gathered for the evening. It depicted the life of a native Liberian boy and showed his growth in the Christian faith through the influence of consecrated doctors, teachers and missionaries of the church.

The social rooms of the Parish house were decorated to provide the atmosphere of Africa and the theme was carried out in the table decor as well as the refreshments. Scooped halves of fresh pineapple were served filled with fresh fruit and sprinkled with grated coconut, chief foods of the natives. Peanuts and ginger cookies and coffee, all products of Africa were also served.

Special displays were exhibited by the local women's group as they completed their four months' study of Africa. Mrs. William Palmer, Jr., explained the Literacy and Education of the mission field; Mrs. Robert Nichols, the social-economic problems; and Mrs. Mary Eckler the history of the 100 year old Lutheran Mission in Liberia.

Mrs. Jane Treible headed the decoration committee, while Mrs. Harold Lansdowne, Jr., was in charge of the hostess committee. Mrs. Robert Shively, newly elected president of Grace ULCW, extended the greetings of the women to the visitors. Favours were made by the senior Girl Scout troop of the church.

The June meeting of the ULCW of Grace Church will be a picnic in combination with the United Lutheran Church men of the parish at the Minnick bungalow at Minisink Hills.

Miss Janice Marie Peters Is Bride Of Roger Lane

Mount Pocono—Miss Janice Marie Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peters, of 119 High St., Plymouth and Pfc. Roger Paul Lane, son of Mrs. Helen Lane and the late Stanley Lane of Mount Pocono, were married on May 7 in St. Mary of the Mount Catholic Church, Mount Pocono.

Rev. William Cusick performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with bouquets of white gladioli and stephanotis.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law Charles V. Brock, wore a ballerina length gown of silk chiffon with a lace jacket with long pointed sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a crown of flowers. She carried a white miasal with white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Ellen Nesco, of Church Ave., Mount Pocono, was her maid-of-honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of gold silk with gold shoes with a veil of pink carnations and she carried a cascade of pink carnations and stephanotis.

Jack Reap, a cousin of the bridegroom, of Mount Pocono, was best man. A reception for the immediate family was held at the Mount Pocono Fire Hall. The bride's table was decorated with a three-tiered wedding cake, silver candelabra and apple blossoms.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Charles V. Brock wore a dress of beige lace with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue gown with a three-tiered wedding cake, silver candelabra and apple blossoms.

Traffic Policeman Asked To Guard School Children By Analomink PTA Unit

Analomink—A request that a uniformed policeman be stationed in front of the Analomink School to supply protection to the children and direct traffic on Route 195 will be forwarded to the Stroud Union School Board.

The recommendation was passed unanimously at the meeting of the Analomink Parent-Teachers Assn. on Tuesday night at the school and was based on study of the hazardous traffic conditions at the school.

The closing meeting of the year began with a covered dish supper. Mrs. Annie Weidman was re-elected as president; Shirley Carlton, vice president; Marion Pfeiffer, secretary, and Mary Moeller, treasurer.

Named to the auditing committee were Adeline Nauman and Shirley Carlton. Harry Anton, principal, announced that the study unit on transportation would be climaxed with a train trip on May 18 when the students will go to Pocono Summit.

Mrs. Nancy Treible's room, having won the attendance banner most often during the PTA year, received $5 to be used for supplies.

Following the meeting, a Chinese auction sale was held with great success.

Pocono Grange Friday Night

Tannersville — Members of Pocono Grange will meet on Friday night at the Grange Hall in Tannersville at 7:30 p.m. The first and second degrees will be conferred on a new member, Daniel Mager.

All members will participate in a memorial service for deceased members and a Mother's Day program of poems and readings has been arranged by the lecturer. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

The Wyckoff Shopper

I'll say this much — Frigidaire has a fine FLAIR for doing things that American women approve, and if I had about 400.00 or so, I'd have their very fine FLAIR in my kitchen within the hour. Pronto!

I'm talking about the new Frigidaire range unveiled last week at Moorestown, N. J., now on display in our Wyckoff appliance department, and discussed by Harold Albert on our radio program of last Friday. Usually I am conservative about new appliances — I can't own them and so I shrug them off in a "take 'em or leave 'em" mood. I'm not that way about this range — I love it. I'm as badly smitten as a teen-ager over his first girl, and while I'm not yet at the point of writing sonnets, I can feel that moment creeping up.

To begin with the FLAIR range by Frigidaire, is designed for that built-in look, so popular in the American home today. To look at it when closed and not in operation, it has something of the appearance of a stream-lined, super deluxe, kitchen cabinet. It lines up precisely with the other counter tops in the kitchen . . . in fact, the bottom is a cupboard with two doors behind which one may store pots, pans and other cooking needs. This cabinet, sold separately, is of porcelain. If the homemaker desires, however, it can be of paneling, or anything that matches her decor. The four burner cooking surface pulls out, like a drawer, whenever you wish to use it. Controls for this and for the oven — which is prettily framed behind etched glass at EYE LEVEL — are at the very top.

It's something entirely different . . . wondrously radical . . . and I'm smitten beyond any hope of regaining my senses. I have heard of men falling in love with portraits and statues . . . but this is the first time I personally have ever fallen hard for a stove. And I'm thinking it's a serious business, not just a FLAIR tation!

These are BONUS DAYS in STROUDSBURG. Visit the participating stores. See the displays by Home Economics students, and attend their Fashion Show at Wyckoff's Friday night.

Frauds Policed By SEC

By William A. Doyle
Q. I recently read a prospectus of a mutual fund. The prospectus states that "these securities have not been approved or disapproved by the Securities and Exchange Commission nor has the commission passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this prospectus. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense."

To me, this reads as if the SEC hasn't even checked up on the mutual fund. Is this true?

A. Not for one minute. The SEC does not keep a constant check on mutual funds, each fund's prospectus and other literature. Besides that, the state regulatory authorities also keep tabs on the funds. In some cases, the state regulations (the "blue sky" laws) are stricter than those of the Federal government.

The SEC goes over the prospectus of each mutual fund with a fine-tooth comb — as it does the prospectus on the offering of any other securities.

Remember that a prospectus is supposed to contain the essential facts about an offering of securities. If it appears to be complete and honest, the SEC gives it the green light.

The statement you quote means that the commission does not pass judgment on the quality of the securities being offered to the public. But, if the SEC suspected any fraud, you can be sure that the prospectus would never be printed.

Q. I own 30 shares of Sinclair Oil stock. I purchased it many years ago, when the company was called Consolidated Oil. That name still appears on the certificates I hold. For quite a number of years, I have received my dividends from Sinclair Oil.

Should I do anything about having the stock certificates changed?

A. You don't have to. But it would be a wise move. The name of the company was changed from Consolidated Oil Corp. to Sinclair Oil Corp. on September 23. Each share of Consolidated Oil common stock then became one share of Sinclair Oil common stock.

You actually should have exchanged your certificate at that time. The company notified its stockholders often enough. Even so, it continues to send dividends to you and other shareholders who did not exchange their certificates.

You can still exchange them. Your brokerage house or bank should handle the paper work for you—for a small service fee.

If, at some time in the future, you want to sell your stock you will have to exchange the Consolidated Oil certificate for a Sinclair Oil certificate before you can transfer the shares to the buyer.

Looking on the dark side of things, suppose you die. Your heirs might not realize that your Consolidated Oil certificates represent Sinclair Oil stock. They might think your old certificate is worthless.

Q. I notice two very high-quality stocks have exactly the same dividends. But the market price of one is almost twice the market price of the other. How come?

A. Most likely because the higher-priced stock is considered a growth situation. Investors and speculators are willing to pay more for stocks with growth potential than for slower-moving stocks.

Award Swim Pool Contract

WASHINGTON, N. J. — Borough Council at a special meeting Tuesday night awarded a contract for construction of a new swimming pool in the borough park to Norman Lowman of Stroudsburg on his bid of $43,975.

Work is to begin 10 days after the contract is signed and a total of 45 working days has been allowed for its completion. The pool will have a poured concrete bottom and "Gunite" sidewalks with the interior finished in a mixture of marble dust and white cement.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

For Thursday, May 12, 1960
Aries — A day for sturdy endeavors, laboring work generally. Don't seek too much in monetary gains, think more of the spiritual values to be had from efforts. And plan and work without anxiety.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Artistic professions, matters that require delicacy of handling and artistry may be more tedious and demanding today than are the difficult, propitious and laborious work. But fear not, try.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — The day is for activity in mental propositions but give your alert brain a bit of a rest and make good with your hands. Skill in all industries, building, carpentry, mason work among favored.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Home, family and children's interests rule today. Deal in table delicacies, all foods, wearing apparel and commodities for the home. Don't be over-sensitive. Think and act big.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Not especially auspicious for all personal wishes but it is a good day for improving quality of your outer put or work and also for adding improved methods in keeping with today's varied needs.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — Think more now about aiding good causes, institutions that need your help, those in various fields where cleverness and intuitive analysis are required. Casual daily affairs can run smoothly.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Up to your ingenuity and cleverness, also to discernment how you can schedule and essential matters. You do very well when you follow your instinctive knowledge. Irritate.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio) — Gentle, friendly influences still linger since yesterday's good Mars aspect. May have strong opposition in your field of endeavor, selling, etc. but be patient and you can handle it. Look like a good day, not too energetic but certainly not a lazy period. You are naturally active, useful, ambitious so be your true self now. Up to you to complete your schedule.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn) — Your Saturn, favoring sincere, honorable intentions and labor, finishing incomplete projects and, all essential work advocated. Don't strain but do keep your feet on the ground.

January 24 to February 23 (Aquarius) — Propitious Uranus aspect today. Be careful and attentive to important work and personal issues. You can plan and execute a really productive schedule now. Make necessary improvements.

February 24 to March 23 (Pisces) — A day to Aquarius can be helpful to you, too. Today should be an agreeable time to get your affairs in good style and to put most matters in line for action and thus save time energy.

NOT ROBIN TODAY: Capable and commanding ability, you seek unimpaired development, be active, receptive to knowledge. Faithful to a trust, to lifemate and children. Do not be cautious that you are in this trait not to overdo. Your desire is to elevate yourself and loved ones, to improve their status. You are refined, peaceful, a delightful friend, not jealous of others' success and above pettiness. This, of course, if you are living true to your finer qualities and are not ruled by faults such as domineering, ill-temper, birthright, Dante G. Rossetti, English poet and painter. New Set-Up On Cavalier Sports Banquet

EAST STROUDSBURG High School, a heavy financial loser on its all-sports banquet last year, will operate this year's affair under a new set-up.

Each ticket purchased for the May 17 dinner will admit the purchaser and also pay the way for one of the school's athletes or cheerleaders.

Tickets are on sale at Lantz's Store, Counterman's Drug Store and Lloyd Sporting Goods or from any Cavalier athlete.

The affair takes place at East Stroudsburg Methodist Church at 6:30 p. m. with Jim Reed, East Stroudsburg State College wrestling coach, as the speaker and Paul Morton, as toastmaster.

Awards will be presented to the school's outstanding athlete and the most valuable player on the football, basketball and baseball squads.

Nine leadership and service awards, three for each sport will also be handed out. Cavalier seniors are not eligible for the trophies.

Varsity "E" Donates $600 For Track Team

And the Varsity "E" Club has donated $600 to the school for track equipment.

Jack Kist, who has been running an intra-mural track program this spring, hopes to field an interscholastic team next year.

And if the Borough will kick in with a track, a cinder season is assured.

Evans Reese Jr., of East Stroudsburg, has been elected captain of the Princeton freshman baseball team.

Bangor High School competes in the Lehigh-Northampton League track meet at Allentown Saturday.

Otto Harwi, of Easton, who has yet to win a race at the Nazareth Speedway, is the leading modified driver at the Middletown strip, with 123 points.

Olympic Swim Coach To Attend Shawnee Meet

Charles Roeser, coach of the United States men's Olympic team, will be on hand for the Shawnee Invitation Swim Meet, Sunday, June 5.

There is a strong chance that some of the aqua talent on display at Shawnee, will make the Rome trip.

With the rapid increase in the number of golfers and the overcrowded conditions on golf courses, it's not too hard an idea, to buy personal liability insurance.

Basic policies that pay up to $10,000 can be bought for about $10.

Open And Shut Cases On Golf Ball Injuries

Golf ball injuries are almost open and shut cases if they get as far as a court. And yelling "fore" makes little difference.

A woman who lived next to a course in Washington, D. C., was struck on the leg by a ball, while walking her dog in a blind hollow of the course, several years ago.

The woman sued the golfer who struck her for $6,000. The judge agreed—awarded the woman the $6,000 and fined her $25 for trespassing.

Players Paid In Big 10 Says Mag

NEW YORK (AP) — Sports Illustrated charges football stars at some Big Ten universities are paid in cash after a game and others receive weekly payments in unsigned envelopes through the mail. The schools were not named.

The accusations were made by the sports weekly magazine in its May 16 issue in an article discussing recruiting practices and the NCAA's drastic action last month against the University of Indiana. Indiana was placed on probation for four years for allegedly violating NCAA rules in recruiting six prospective football players.

Sports Illustrated quoted unidentified recruiters from other Big Ten schools as saying "Indiana had to get caught because it didn't use any class," and Indiana recruiters used "no finesse."

Ed Mathews Beats Cards

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee slugger Ed Mathews moved up another notch in the all-time home run derby by crashing his fourth and fifth of the season Wednesday night in the Braves' 12-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Mathews, who had five runs batted in, hit solo shots in the third and sixth innings to boost his homer output to 304 since joining the Braves in 1962. He now is tied with the New York Yankees' Yogi Berra for 14th place among the all-time sluggers.

McKay Wins Rome Tennis

ROME (AP) — Barry McKay, towering Dayton, Ohio, tennis player, smashed his way to the title of the Rome International meet Wednesday with a 7-5, 7-5, 6-6, 6-1 victory over Luis Ayala of Chile.

It was the first time the Rome title has been won by a U. S. player since Budge Patty of Los Angeles did it in 1954.

Ernie Howe Sparkles

Warriors Split Pair With Bloomsburg Nine

SECOND baseman Ernie Howe smacked two home runs, a triple and single but the best East Stroudsburg could do, was a double header split with Bloomsburg, winning the first 8-4 and dropping the curfew - shortened nightcap 7-2.

The Warriors smacked 13 hits in the seven - inning opener but in the five-inning finale managed only five off Bill Ebertz. A collegiate curfew does not permit an inning to start after 5:30 p.m.

In addition to his stick work, Howe made one of the greatest fielding plays every pulled at Normal Hill.

Diving Grab
In the second inning of the second game, the Huskies had Bill Lockoff on first base. Centerfield Earl Blackburn drilled a grass cutter up the middle. Howe moved far to his right threw himself at the ball and gloved it. He flipped to Tom Rider for the force at second but Rider's throw to first was late.

At Stockholm had four hits in six trips for the two games while Rider smacked three singles in four trips.

Webb Michaels opened on the hill for the Warriors in the first game and officially last an inning. He was replaced by LeRoy Smith in the second after failing to retire a man.

Michaels walked six men and gave up two hits in his brief stint.

Smith, a lefthander, who was credited with the win, allowed only three hits and a single run in three and two-thirds innings.

Tom Barrow worked the final two and a third innings and also started the second game.

Trailing 3-0 in the third, East Stroudsburg cut the lead to 3-2 on a double by Walt Snyder, that scored Stockholm and Howe.

Three runs in the fourth put the Warriors out in front for keeps, 5-3.

Joe Bean opened the inning with a single and scored on Smith's triple. Smith pulled up at third but when the relay was fumbled, he scored. Howe smacked a towering shot over the fence in deep left center for his first round tripper.

Add Two More
Two singles and a two base error by rightfielder Tom Christian added a pair of runs in the fifth.

Howe's triple in the sixth and a sacrificing fly by Al Miller ended the scoring.

Ingo's Training Methods Not Laughed At This Time

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — A year ago they made jokes about Ingemar Johansson. They dragged up his inglorious Olympic record and shrugged off his one - round knockout of Eddie Machen as an accident.

Day after day, week after week, the people who crowded the ski house in this Catskill Mountain resort to see the Swede box in the indoor ring waited to see a real right hand punch. He kept it under cover.

Through it all Johansson remained supremely confident. He politely answered all critics, calmly waited through a one-day postponement and then proceeded to destroy Floyd Patterson with his hammer of Thor right.

Things are different this time. His dubious ring credentials of last year have become bonafide. His right hand no longer is a mystery. His training methods are no suspect.

Stops Nonsense

Johansson handles his old sparring partners as a champion should. When Bill Johnson, a 1959 holdover, tried to fight him like he did last summer, Ingemar dropped in a solid right hand punch to the top of the head. The nonsense quickly stopped.

"It is the jab with the right hand following right behind it that gets you," said Johnson after a workout. "If you could stay away from that jab, you could work on the right. That's what ruined Patterson. He couldn't get past that jab and was a sitting duck for the right."

If Johansson is aware of the new respect for his ring skills he doesn't say much about it. "Last year when they talked about my not throwing a right hand in training, I didn't pay much attention," he said. "Why should I? I knew what I could do."

Johansson was a bit annoyed with those who suggested his training routine last year was not as strenuous as Patterson's.

"I think I worked harder," he said. "I boxed six or seven rounds every day, as much as he did. He just kept staying in the training room all the time."

Don Fuller Beats Redl In Utah Go

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP) —Young Don Fuller jabbed his way to a unanimous 10-round decision over Stefan Redl of Passaic, N.J., in a dull midweight bout that was televised nationally Wednesday night.

Neither fighter was hurt. Fuller, 21, of West Jordan, weighed 155 3-5 and Redl, 27, 149.

Don is the youngest of the "fighting Fullmers" which include NBA Middleweight Champion Gene and lightweight Jay Fuller.

A capacity crowd of 700 fans in the West Jordan Athletic Club Gym found little to cheer. The action was limited mostly to left jabs and wild hooks.

Two Slips
Redl slipped to the canvas twice, once in the fifth round and again in the 10th. He started Fuller's nose bleeding in the second round but it never bothered the younger fighter.

Fuller cut Redl above the left eye in an exchange in the eighth round and immediately used the eye as a target for his left jab. But Redl didn't seem bothered.

Fuller's best rounds were the eighth and 10th.

Referee Del Martham scored the fight 97-94 for Fuller. Judge Ken Gardner gave it to Don 100-94, and Judge Norm Jorgensen had it 99-92 under the 10-point must system.

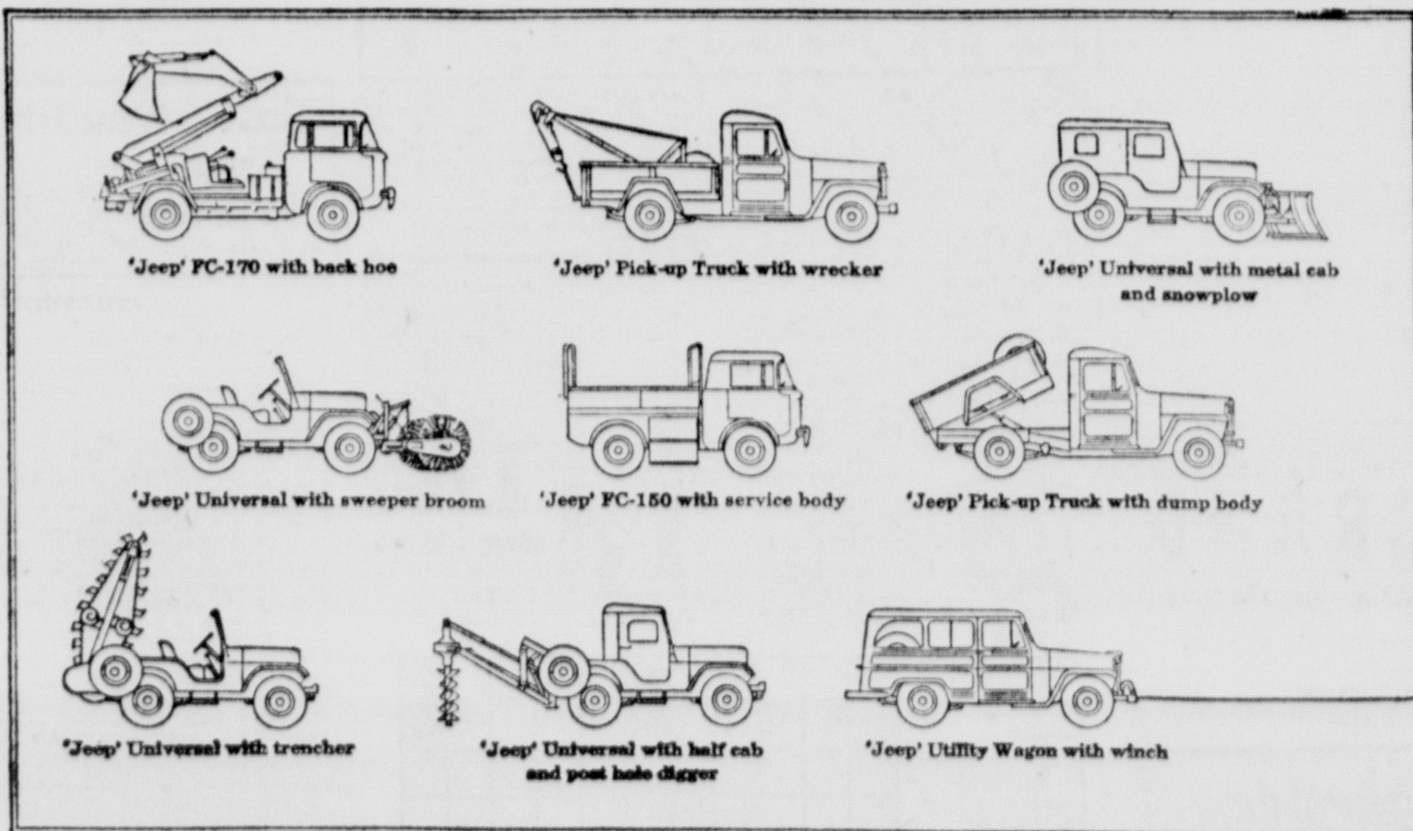

The Associated Press scored it 99-95 for Fuller.

Junior Sports Under-Emphasized Says PIAA Head In Magazine

HARRISBURG (AP) — Junior high school sports is under-emphasized if anything, in Pennsylvania, the PIAA said Wednesday.

This was reported in the scholastic sports organization's monthly magazine, "The Pa'athlete," as the sentiment of its junior high members.

The magazine contained the PIAA's first formal answer to charges by Dr. James B. Conant, prominent educator, that sports is over-emphasized in American junior high schools.

Special Report

The comments in the magazine covered the answers made by Mark N. Funk, executive director of the PIAA, following the special committee report, Funk served on the committee but said he did not see its report nor was he in agreement with all of its recommendations.

Funk is also editor of "The Pa'athlete."

In a report on the junior high school meeting last month, the magazine covered the group's comments on each of the committee's 17 recommendations.

Commenting on the dangers of over-emphasis, the junior high representatives stated:

"Under-Emphasis" "Certainly, with this we can agree, but we will have to agree on what is over-emphasis. At the present time, as we know the sports program of the junior high schools of the state of Pennsylvania, there is under-emphasis rather than over-emphasis, speaking generally. The junior high schools of the PIAA have already eliminated most of the over-emphasis by limitation of the season, elimination of district or state championships, age restrictions, the award rule, physicians' examinations, the coaching rule, etc."

Hellertown Scores Six Gift Runs To Drop Bangor, 7-3

BANGOR — Hellertown scored six unearned runs in the second inning to defeat Bangor High School here Wednesday.

The Panthers managed only three hits, all off starter and loser Duane LaBar. The Slaters rapped six hits off two Hellertown hurlers.

LaBar got through the first inning with little trouble but in the second, three back to back Bangor errors and a single and double, a double steal and fielder's choice brought in six runs and reliever Leo Reimer.

Reimer worked five and two-thirds innings, allowing no hits and a lone run in the third innings.

Ken Smith smacked a home-run into right center field in the sixth to account for on Bangor run and LaBar's double (in the fifth) with two aboard brought in the other two.

Palmer Favored In $50,000 Colonial National Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who has won almost $50,000 and five tournaments, is a 4 to 1 favorite to make top money in the $50,000 Colonial National Invitation opening Thursday.

Installation of Palmer as the big man was a foregone conclusion although the Masters champion hasn't registered a victory in his last two tries. But Arnold is playing good, consistent golf all the time.

There were plenty who thought the spotlight should still be on defending Ben Hogan, the fellow who has won five Colonial tournaments, and has taken down so much money here they call the per 70, 7,041-yard Colonial Country Club course "Hogan's Alley."

Ben is a 7 to 1 choice, just ahead of Dow Finsterwald, who has won two tournaments this year. Only Palmer, with his five, and Jerry Barber and Sam Snead, with two each, have done better or as well.

Finsterwald was an 8 to 1 selection for the $5,000 first money as a field of 54 went through final tuneups Wednesday.

Only Snead is absent from among the tournament winners of the year in this golf show that has attracted champions of 45 of the 52 events that have been played since the 1959 Colonial.

SC Netters Whip Rams Again, 5-4

EAST Stroudsburg State College tennis team dropped Kutztown 5-4, at Normal Hill Wednesday for its second win over the Rams in six days.

Bill Salmi, Jerry Benner and Gere Fulton won singles matches. Salmi defeated Dick Whitley 6-1, 6-1; Benner turned back George Adams, 6-1, 6-0 and Fulton trounced Joe McMullan, 6-2, 6-1.

The Warriors won two of the three doubles matches. Benner and Keller smacked Adams and Don Deterik, 6-3, 6-0 and Fulton and Marty Altschuler walloped McMullan and Whitley, 6-0, 6-1.

Bally Ache To Run In Prep Event

BALTIMORE (AP) — Second place Bally Ache of the Kentucky Derby will get in racing trim for a return match against Venetian Way by running in the Preakness Prep Saturday.

The intention to give Bally Ache a trial spin around the Pimlico track before the May 21 Preakness was announced Wednesday.

Trainer Vic Siovinski of derby winner Venetian Way thought it over and has decided for the time being to skip the prep.

Also lined up as probabilities for the mile and sixteenth prep, an eighth of a mile shorter than the Preakness distance, are four other 3-year-old colts.

Trainer Charley Whittingham plans to start Llangollen Farm's Devine Comedy and Command Pilot, T.V. Lark will go for Chase McCoy and Celtic Ash for Joseph O'Connell.

Entries for the $50,000 event will be made Friday.

Bowls Shifted To January 2

NEW YORK (AP)—Jan. 1, 1961 falls on a Sunday and the special events committee of the NCAA said Tuesday it had given approval to the Cotton, Rose and Orange bowl officials to play their football games on Monday, Jan. 2.

At the same time, the committee approved Saturday, Dec. 17 as the date for the second annual Liberty Bowl game in Philadelphia.

Officials of the Sugar Bowl said they also would play on Monday, Jan. 2, but have not yet applied for approval.

Record Holder Hurts Foot

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Herb Elliott, world record holder in the mile run, left by plane Tuesday night for California predicting he would do poorly in a series of meets because of a strained foot ligament that has interrupted his training for the past 10 days.

"I haven't trained in the past 10 days because of the foot injury and do not expect to do well in my first race in America," he said as he entered the plane.

Elliott will make a brief stop in Honolulu, where he will participate in an exhibition race.
